

Scott Grover

- Trainer of OHL, NCAA and NHL players
- NCCP Level 3 certified coach with 30 + years of coaching experience

The Science of Skating is committed to developing fundamental skating skills through which a hockey player will achieve greater success in the game.

Explosive acceleration, proper use of edges, improved lateral movement, increased balance and precise stopping are just the beginning of skills that are taught.

We now offer an Advanced program that will also deal with body checking, puck control and play making drills. Our focus is on aiding the player to take his or her game to the next level.

General Information:

All skaters are required to follow Ice Etiquette set out by the Mariposa School of Skating. Proper skating attire must be worn at all times for on and off ice classes.
